History of colors of the HGH tops. Before the existence of generic HGH labs in China, the yellow tops were used by Jintropin (GeneScience Pharmaceuticals), blue tops were used by Hypertropin (Neogenica Bioscience) and green tops were used for Igtropin (IGF-1 long R3). In 2007, both Jintropin and Hypertropin switched to using green color caps. Jintropin stimulates skeletal and somatic growth, and activates metabolic reactions and regeneration processes in the body. It slows the synthesis of fats and stimulates muscle growth. Jintropin positively affects gland functions of the body - thymus, genital, thyroid, adrenal, etc. This drug suppresses the production of certain enzymes and stimulates insulin-like growth factor.

Jintropin is the premium HGH brand.. You can find two types of Jintropin: one with yellow tops and an orange line on the box (it contains 10 IUs) and the other one, with the green line (this one has 4 IUs). On the front side of the box, you can find a sticker with special individual fibers on it. To verify the quality of the product you. Fwiw this is a box picked up either at the hospital in China, or at the Jintropin office where you can buy them a little cheaper once you get the prescription. Got a bunch of them while living there for one of my kids (who is using them) Indeed the green is missing on your picture and the writing on the top right corner is different.
